Troubled Server Farm
Course Designer: RH

SCENARIO: You are the local IT specialist and you get a phone call saying your NMCI managed servers are being hacked to launch two ICBM's. No one knows of a way to stop it. You enter the server room and realize you will have to grab a 240 volt cable by hand to shut them down, so you decide on a more physically damaging solution. The problem is the local nerd has a strange attachment to the equipment. This is a dark stage.

START POSITION: Standing at P1, handgun loaded to division capacity and holstered. Flashlight in weak hand, turned off. Activator chord in strong hand.

STAGE PROCEDURE: At start signal, turn on flashlight and activate NT with strong hand. Draw and engage each target with two rounds each in tactical sequence.
